Imagine a bathroom
where art and nature
take over the space,
flowers flooding
from the ceiling,
from the toilets,
from the sink.

Close your eyes,
feel the humidity,
listen to the soft sound of water and let your senses explore.

THE EXHIBITION

THE BATHROOM

Le Lavabo.

A creation paying tribute to Ikebana,
the Japanese art of floral arrangement.

The curved leaves remind us of the water that gushes out like a geyser.

Ikebana made with curved cycas palm leaves painted in gold and a polka dot phalaenopsis orchid.
Patterned phalaenopsis orchids and purple anthuriums are in recycled bottles hand glittered by artist Alexandra Nunes.

La Baignoire.

A 3 meter high bottle of Mosaic bubble bath pouring fresh flowers into a bathtub.
The experience is immersive and stimulates all senses.

As you step into the space, you can feel the steam and humidity on your skin, smell the scent of ylang ylang and hear the sound of water coming from everywhere.

Over 40 varieties of flowers were used in this 360 degree installation people could experience.

Roses, carnations, Peruvian lilies, tulips, goldenrods, iris...

The flower installation starts with soft shades of whites and pale pinks.

Your eyes then see colors getting brighter, turning into fuchsia and oranges.

It ends in an Amazon forest of proteas, tropical leaves and anthuriums falling on the floor.

THE BATHROOM

La Douche.

An interactive installation where people can sit under the flower shower.

Made with a mix of dried baby's breath, liomonium and hydrangea the colour palette was inspired by the painting Les Nymphéas by Claude Monet.

We have collaborated with the brand Gotes Essentials that makes essential oil 100% natural and organic.

Together, we have created a scent that reminded us of the bathroom.

Ylang ylang brings vitality, lavender and relaxes and petitgrain invigorates.

The Concept.

What we create is limitless. How we create is limitless. Music inspires painting, sculpture impacts photography, architecture influences fashion...

Inspiration comes from art, people and life.
Inspiration comes from everywhere.

Let Art Invade The Space merges universes and languages, giving birth to rich artistic experiences.

The Idea.

Every season, Margaux, floral artist, Inês, visual artist/art director and Catarina, architect, create an art installation collaborating with other artists.

Each exhibition is an immersive experience recreating an atmosphere, an environment, a scenography. You are invited to enter this world and let your imagination go wild.
